

Collegiate Equestrienne Program

The college experience is challenging for the student/athlete regardless of their chosen sport. For the equestrienne, it is even more so, because there is the welfare of the horse to consider as well as that of the student. Balancing studies with riding is made easier when the student and her equine partner are located in the same place.

SPS Farm's Collegiate Equestrienne Program is designed to provide young women who are serious college students as well as serious equestriennes with an opportunity to meld those two passions together in a safe, supportive environment.

The program provides for boarding for both student and horse at SPS Farm. SPS is centrally located to area universities, cultural centers, entertainment, services, and top notch equestrian venues.
